

*Nancy Gyes
AKC/USA Agility World Team Coach*

Nancy Gyes has been involved in dog training sports for the last 25 years. She was active in competition and pet obedience, tracking and behavior counseling for pet owners before discovering agility in 1990. She has been on the AKC World Team seven times; four years with Scud and three years with Riot. Two of Nancy's dogs have achieved MACH3, NAC Riot and Wicked, and her current competition dog, Ace, has his MACH. Nancy has won the AKC Nationals twice and been in the finals multiple times.

Nancy is a full-time agility instructor, competitor and coach. She owns Power Paws Agility with her husband, Jim Basic, in San Jose, California. She has taught seminars all over the United States and in Japan and Korea. Nancy has been the coach of the AKC/USA Agility World Team since 2006.
